For Facilitators and Trainers: Performance Cubed is a game to help learners develop a wide variety of collaborative and communication skills. It positively encourages learners to work together to win and provides key effective team building opportunities to all participants within a safe problem solving and planning environment.

Performance Cubed was originally designed for a growing financial services company which was expanding rapidly through acquisition of other businesses. It was developed to encourage greater collaboration between individuals and teams within a fast moving and changing competitive environment to achieve the goals of the greater business.

The challenge is ever evolving and teams must become more and more creative in problem solving to minimise errors. As rounds of play progress, teams will need to find new ways to work together to balance their individual goals against the larger team goals to achieve Performance Cubed success.
